

BOURNEMOUTH
NATURAL SCIENCE
SOCIETY & MUSEUM

INVITES YOU TO A SCIENCE LECTURE

MOLECULAR TOOLS FOR CONSERVATION: STUDY CASE OF THE RED SQUIRRELS IN DORSET

TUESDAY 19 NOVEMBER 2019 AT 7:30PM

Dr Emilie Hardouin presents a talk on her recent study of red squirrel populations in the UK and their genetic uniqueness..

Dr Emilie Hardouin is a Senior Lecturer in Conservation Genetics at Bournemouth University who has specialised in the study of invasive species.

Venue: Bournemouth Natural Science Society
39 Christchurch Road,
Bournemouth BH1 3NS
01202 553525

Admission: Donation £3. Doors open at 7pm bnss.org.uk

Registered Charity No: 1165951

