

Prof. Simon Cragg

(School of Biological Sciences University of Portsmouth)

will give a talk entitled

Marine Wood Borers: biodeterioration, biotechnology and biosphere protection.

Saturday 22nd September at 2.30pm

at Bournemouth Natural Science Society, 39 Christchurch Rd BH1 3NS (www.bnss.org.uk) - as usual, visitors welcome

Prof. Cragg will talk about the natural history of marine boring organisms, preservation of wood and modern biotechnical approaches to their study.